

Corporate Governance

RDJ | MORE THAN LAW

Corporate Governance & Risk Management

Good corporate governance demands much of directors and stakeholders; it's more than regulation, it's about transparency, scrutiny, interrogation, diversity and integrity. We operate within a highly regulated environment with increased public scrutiny and company directors have significant responsibilities around corporate governance and risk management.

Good corporate governance is about having in place robust policies and procedures, but equally it is about developing and maintaining the right culture to deliver effective and accountable management of the business. It is a process that must be steered and will not happen just by chance.

At RDJ, our focus is more than law, it's about your business. Not only do we assist your team to understand and implement the legal principles driving good corporate governance, but will also help your team to build a strong culture of compliance across your business.

We know that organisational values are as important in achieving strong corporate governance as legal compliance and we help clients sustain and instil these values.

Our team has a wealth of experience dealing with the regulations that impact corporate governance and the associated statutory responsibilities and compliance obligations for companies, directors and officers.

Reputation Management

We know that your reputation, like ours, is one of your most valuable assets. A well respected brand takes years to build and minutes to destroy.

In an increasingly connected and content-driven world, reputations can be tarnished instantly and result in significant loss of business, revenue and goodwill.

Threats to reputation & brand may derive from:

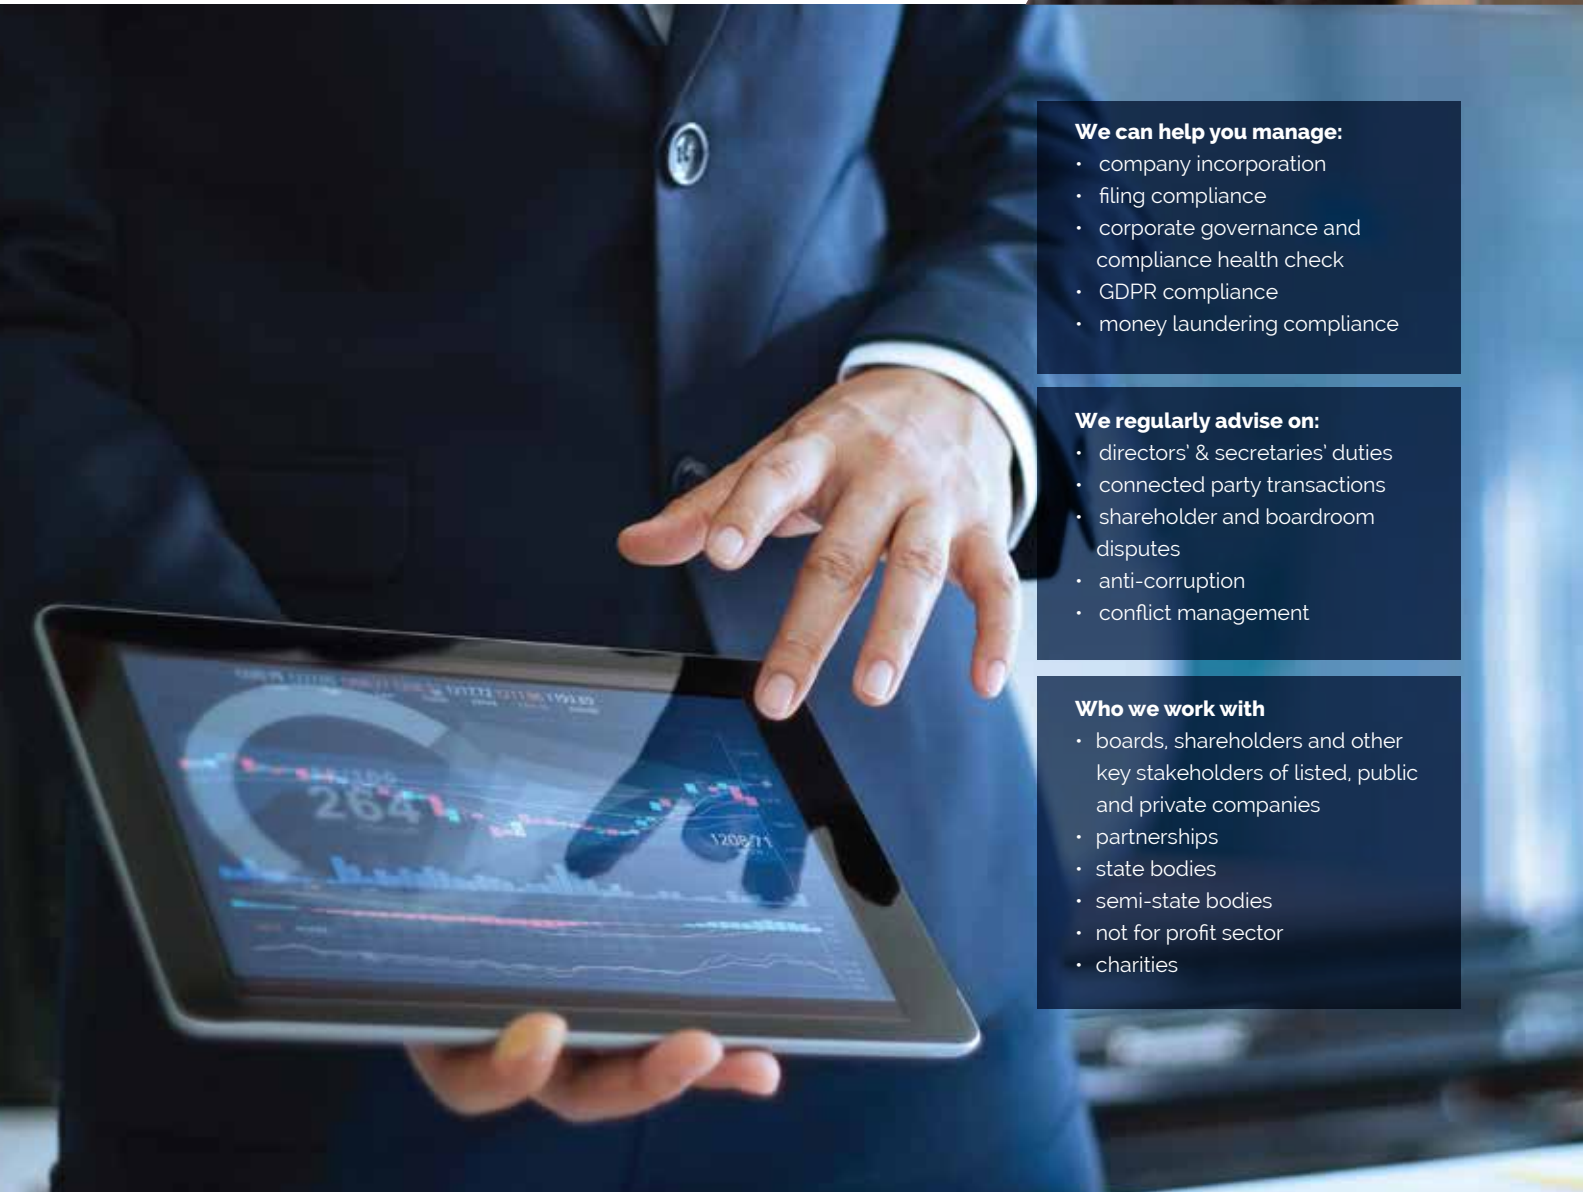

- social media
- litigation
- regulatory investigations
- published on or off-line content
- intellectual property infringement
- defamation
- data breaches

We work closely with clients at a pro-active and re-active level to develop both online and off-line strategies that minimise threats to reputation and ensure your business is ready to respond appropriately and expeditiously when a crisis emerges.

Company Secretarial

We assist with company registrations, compliance filings and reports, but also ensure our clients are kept up to date on their obligations through regular bespoke corporate governance awareness training and briefings.

It is this focus on knowledge management and continuous improvement that helps our clients manage their risk and maintain a culture of best practice corporate governance across the entire organisation and not just at board level.
